JAIL DELIVERY

FOUR MEN IN THE SCHEME

desperate prisoners at the county jail, was frustrated Sunday morning by Sheriff J. C. Sharp and deputies when revolver were found in cells in the rotary. Had the cunning plot been successful, L. E. Driskell, held for murder of Special Officer C. C filey; William Morgan, his cell mate, charged with counterfeiting; John Fury, accused of robbery, and Dominic Albanese, a desperate foreigner, would have made their escape and, in all probability, Jailer Carlson would have been saveleged.

probability, Jailer Carlson would have been murdered.

Since John Delaney, now serving a six months' sentence in the county Jail for attempting to blow up the steel work at the Hotel Utah, tried to induce men in the criminal division of the city court to "slip" him some saws, officials of the Jail have kept a keen watch on the prisoners.

On Sunday a tray of food was sent to Driskell by the latter's brother, Tracy. The tray was smashed and a search of Driskell's cell followed, disclosing three fine saws concealed in the place occupied by Driskell and Morgan. A further search brought Morgan. A further search brought to light two more finely tempered saws in the cell occupied by Fury and Albanese. It is believed that Driskell intended to give one of the saws to another prisoner. REVOLVER SMUGGLED IN.

The plan was to saw out of the ro-tary and by a prearranged plan at-tract the attention of the jailer. The prisoners intended to overpower Jaller Carlson, take his keys and release as many prisoners as cared to leave the iail.

many prisoners as cared to leave the jail.

When the plot was discovered, Driskell attempted to commit suicide. Placing a gag in his mouth he set fire to his clothing, but before he was seriously burned he was dragged from the cell. In the cell where the three saws were found, the officers discovered a big revolver, and how the weapon was smuggled into the cell is a mystery to Sheriff Sharp.

Soon after the saws were found, Tracy Driskell was placed under arrest, and he is being held at the jail pending further investigation. Sheriff Sharp believes he smuggled the saws to his brother. The man emphatically denied the charge and declared he knew nothing whatever about the plot. The matter was kept secret by the county authorities until Tuesday night. Sheriff Sharp said he wanted it kept quiet so he could detect the guilty persons.

SETTLEMENT OF VEGAS.

from Lund, Whitepine county, Nev.: I was one of 30 men sent early in the spring of 1855 by the Church leaders as missionaries to the Indians in southern Nevada. We did not go as settlers, and did not think we were in Utah. From the Muddy we traveled 55 miles over a hot, barren desert, when we reached Vegas. Here was found a large spring, and beautiful patches of willows and lovely spreading meadows. The rich land we divided off to each of the 30 men a garden spot of equal size. Near by grew a kind of dwarf timber, scattered about, and a sort of brush called "meaquit". We fenced in a field of 100 to 150 acres. We plowed, we cultivated and would grow to two or three feet high; then begin to turn red, and that was the last of it. We would laugh and call it "red top." Other crops would do the same. But on our garden ground—what beautiful corn, melons, squash, potatoes, etc. Next year we had evidence that the dead desert land only needed water to bring it to life.

Near here we made adobes and built a two-story fort surrounding a 10-rod square with bastions and port holes at each corner, with a wide gateway in each wall. Two miles north of the fort were three or four small springs, which we diverted to the desert land.

In the spring of '56 a few small families came to our assistance, sent by President Young, among the number the late Bishop N. V. Jones. He had authority to take men from the different settlements and mine some very high grade lead ore, which had been discovered some 25 miles away, on the south side of the old California road where it struck the mountains. But our leader or captain, the late Bishop Wm. Bringhurst of Springville, didn't see it in that light; neither did most of his men. Dissensions arose; i new leader was appointed, and in the fall of 1856 we left all our hard work behind us and went north. I was one of 30 men sent early in the spring of 1855 by the Church leaders as

ETHICS OF WAITING.

Justice Hanks Holds a Waitress Should Not be Compelled to Climb Stairs.

Waiters and waitresses as expert witnesses failed to convince Justice of the Peace Hanks yesterday that it was a rule that a waitress should climb several flights of stairs with a plat-ter of edibles in her hand, and he accordingly entered judgment against the Flith East hotel for $15 and $7.75 costs, and in favor of Sarah Page.

It all happened several weeks ago. Miss Page was one of the waltresses, until she was ordered, by the proprietor Dr. Titcomb, to carry a platter up several flights of stairs to some sick person. Her services ceased and she demanded her time. She was tendered $15, which she refused as she asserted $15 was due her.

At the hearing Dr. Titcomb asserted that $13 was all that was due her as he had been put to a loss by her leaving. He further declared that she had violated her agreement in not delivering meals in the rooms.

The manager and his chef averred that it was the rule of the house for the waitresses to climb the stairs. This Miss Page denied, asserting that it had never been done and that it way the duty of the bellboy or a man to climb the stairs with a meal for a late riser or sufferer. She further declared that it was rulnous to the health of a waitress to climb the stairs, She also had the head waitress at the place appear and testify that it was not the rule of the hotel to compel the women to perform the work required by the manager.

CONVENTION POSTPONED.

State Dry Farm Association Will Not Meet Until April.

The State Dry Farming association was scheduled to hold its convention in Salt Lake this week, but for various reasons it has been postponed until the forepart of April. Prof. L. A. Merrill forepart of April. Prof. L. A. Merrili gives as reasons for the postponement that the members generally desire the day changed to later in the season; that Dr. Widtsoe, vice president, is in California; J. W. Paxman, vice president, is quarantined, and others who will attend a later session would not be able to be in attendance at a February session. But in April they expect a rousing convention, as the dry farming industry of Utah is coming to the front in leaps and bounds, each year bringing hundreds into the fold. The Smoot act has been instrumental in giving dry farming a wonderful impetus in this state.
